

Introduction

PalArch's Journals publish three journals namely "The Journal of Archaeology of Egypt / Egyptology" "PalArch's Journal of Vertebrate Palaeontology" and "PalArch's Journal of Archaeology of Northwest Europe". PalArch Journals are aimed at archaeologists and scientists with specific interests in advancing the development and application to all areas of archaeology, Egyptology, Palaeontology, (Functional) Morphology, Museology, Paleoecology, Paleoichnology, Phylogeny, Preparation/conservation, Taphonomy, History of science, Architecture, Art history of scientific techniques and methodologies. Focus articles, original research papers and major review articles of wide archaeological significance are published in this journal.

The journals offer an international forum for scientists from a wide variety of scientific

